

The result from the vegetable plantation and chicken raising

A 64 years old lady, Mrs. Sim Yeurn, who is the family leader of the 8 family which consist of 5 people are female. The whole family are currently living in Champey Village, Ta Yerk Commune, Sotr Nikom District. She is one of the member of the SHG who used her own knowledge from IFFS to put into real practice in her home garden for the whole year so far.

Mrs. Sim Yeurn is not only the model farmer in the SHG but she is the model one in the community also. She also offers one plot of her land as the lease with free of charge for the purpose of building the paddy rice stock which is the common benefit to the all SHG members.

If we observe the location of her house, it is noticed that she has got home gardening which consist of various plantation such as chili, curly cabbage, leaves Onion, and herb. This products are used for family consumption and selling it to the market. Additionally, to make her garden more fruitful product, she used some nature fertilizers such as liquid compose and cow dung. This technique is used which was completely different from her past experiences.

Home gardening

Chicken raising

On the other hand, she had approximately 10 chicken before she became the members of SHG. As the result, she currently has 123 chicken which consist of 6 hens, 2 roasters, 48 chicks and other 60 chicken which are old enough to be sold. She is skillful in selecting the race of chicken and she is using the technique of separating the chick from the hen after delivering the babies. Furthermore, this technique is more convenient to take care of the chick in term of vaccination and treatment. As the result, this technique can prevent from the death of the chicks up to 80% to 90%. For instance, the result of the last three months, she could sell the 13 chicken to the market and 3 chicken for consumption. The income from chicken raising is a great contribution to boost her family condition. The improving situation is quite different from her past living standard.

Mrs. Sim Yeurn is very much impressed with her task with SHG as she can boost her family living standard by chicken raising and vegetable planting.